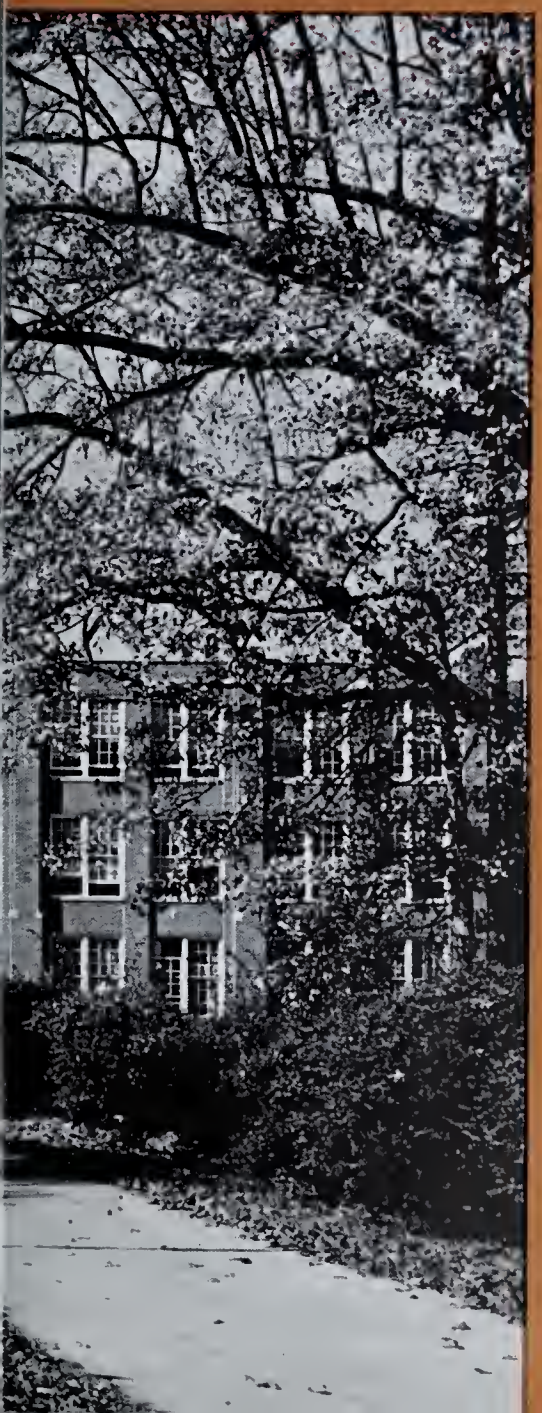
The Students Of Greensboro Senior High School

Greensboro, North Carolina



All hail to thee,
Our Alma Mater strong,
We'll sing thy praise
Through all our days,
With this triumphant song.

All hail to thee,
And as the days go by,
We'll pledge our faith
Our love and loyalty,
Greensboro Senior High.

To you, Mrs. Le Gwin

we dedicate the 1951 Whirligig

When those dreams of reviving a Greensboro High School yearbook became a reality, one of the major concerns was the responsibility of faculty adviser. An alumna of our school, as well as a member of its faculty for fourteen years, a descendant of one of Greensboro's pioneer families, the Mendenhalls, you have been adviser of our pivot organization, the Student Council. Perhaps partly because of your sons, Jimmy and Jere, who have been students here, you have taken a real interest in individual students and been active in so many, many extra-curricular activities outside the countless Biology and Chemistry classes you have taught. Because you are such a vital part of G. H. S. and she is so much a part of you, it was you whom we called upon for this undertaking. We, the student body, could not see another year go by without thanking you from the bottom of our hearts for so willingly and patiently giving of your time, the, literally, thousand or more hours of work outside school time supervising the endless tasks a yearbook requires.

Estelle M. Le Guin

The School's First half-century

Today, we at Senior are proud of our high school, which has one of the fullest academic programs in the South, many modern conveniences, and numerous extra-curricular activities. But how often do we think back through the years of all the planning and work that went into making Senior High what it is today? The Greensboro schools date back even further than 1863, when Eli Carruthers was principal in a little brick building on Sycamore Street. This school was an outgrowth of the old Caldwell Institute, the first of Greensboro's public schools. The public schools were chartered by the North Carolina State Legislature in 1845. From these earliest schools in Greensboro, an extensive public education system has grown, having its tap roots on Lindsay and Forbis Streets. It was on Forbis Street that the first class graduated from a new and separate department, the high school, in 1900. As we have come from carriages to slick convertibles and from bustles to ballerinas, the high school has also seen astounding changes since that first class. Through the past fifty years our school has been steadily expanding, adding new subjects and creating through its activities and organizations, new outlets for our talents and interests. These play important parts in our development as useful and well-rounded individuals.

WE HAVE EXPERIENCED A WIDE PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

As more and more students enrolled in Greensboro High School, the four rooms in the old Catholic Church building on Forbis Street became crowded. The City of Greensboro appropriated 40,000 dollars for building a new school on Spring Street which was completed in 1911. A cafeteria was added in 1919.

There developed a need for an even larger high school, completely separate from the lower grades. A plan was proposed for the erection of a junior high school, a senior high school, and a junior college, in separate groups, facing Westover Terrace in consecutive order. In 1927 the million dollar senior high school project was started on the 129-acre tract. During the year 1929 three of the six proposed high school buildings — the main building, the science building, and the cafeteria — were completed; also, supposedly temporary boys' dressing rooms were erected. The class of 1931 planted the ivy, and a new gymnasium for all students was built in 1933. Until 1934 the auditorium had been without the present murals of industry and trade on the left of the stage and the symbols of the professions on the right About 1935 a combination band room and shop gave more space, and with the erection of the present vocational building in 1940, this combination gave to the girls their own separate gym, with the area between this and the boys' gym modeled into the girls' shower room. The project for our own high school stadium, started in 1939, was at last completed in 1949. It is one of the finest high school stadiums in the South, with a seating capacity of 10,426. There, the first All-Star game was played in September, 1949, and on that field the present Sigmund Selig Pearl Field House, completed in 1950, was formally dedicated at a football game in the fall of 1950.

In the old church building on Forbis Street, the first graduating class of 1900 had Mr. Samuel Smith as principal, and the four teachers instructed the members in their seven subjects. The high school then went through only the ninth grade. Mr. E. D. Broadhurst became principal in 1900 and was succeeded by Mr. W. H. Swift in 1901, under whom the first book rental system and first school library in the state were initiated in 1902. Also the tenth grade was added then. Mr. W. C. Jackson served as principal from 1904 until 1909. When the high school, under the administration of Mr. A. H. King, was moved to Spring Street in 1911, the eleventh grade was added. Greensboro High School, with a faculty of fifteen, became an accredited high school in the fall of 1917, the first of Mr. O. A. Hamilton's two years. In 1921, the last year of Mr. D. R. Price's administration, the first city-wide physical education program in the state was introduced at the high school. In 1922 the first instruction in music at Spring Street was under the direction of Mr. Glenn Gildersleve. This was Mr. Guy B. Phillips' second term as principal. It was under his principalship that our first organized summer school was established in 1924. Mr. Phillips became superintendent of the city schools in 1929 and was succeeded by our present superintendent Mr. Ben L. Smith. Mr. Lee H. Edwards followed Mr. Phillips as principal from 1924 until 1925, and his successor was Mr. C. W. Phillips who continued as principal for eight years. For the first time there was a mid-term graduating class in 1926, and boys were given academic credit for the attainment of Eagle rank in scouting. That year, though public school music was begun in 1900, the first real high school progress in chorus work was made by the organization of the first glee club, which originated as a quartet. The following year a permanent band came into its own with Mr. Grady Miller as the first band-master, and classes in speech and dramatics were begun. With the class of 1928, Mr. Earl Slocum established our first orchestra, and the three subjects in advanced mathematics were added. The year 1929 brought the beginning of art, with Miss Henrietta Lee as instructor, full time dramatics, and classes in journalism and creative writing, taught by Miss Marjorie Craig. Shop was organized and set up in the basement the following year. From about 1929 until the depression in 1933, our high school was at its highest peak, with a faculty of sixty and approximately 1,200 students. During the dark days of the depression, the city failed to provide a supplement, and consequently a three year period of eight-months' school was begun. Mr. E. T. McSwain officiated until Mr. A. P. Routh became our principal in February, 1934. The year after Mr. Routh came, twelve students, who earned no wages, enrolled in the first diversified occupations class in the state, and one of the first two in the South. A year later we began one of the first distributive education classes in North Carolina. The first students in the state to receive credit and to graduate from night-school training finished in 1941. The succeeding year brought to an end the practice of having a mid-term graduating class. Here, too, was the first veterans' school program in the state, beginning in 1946 and extending until June, 1948. In 1949 we were granted our own broadcasting station, WGPS-FM, operating on ten watts at eighty-nine and nine-tenth megacycles. With this we were once again the pioneers.

WE ADDED MANY ATTRACTIONS

For forty-eight years, students in the Greensboro High School have been challenged to do their best scholastically in order to achieve recognition through the honor roll. That the class of 1909 might always remember their Alma Mater, they began the Greensboro High yearbook, and Newman I. White was appointed editor. This was a successor to the former and only publication of the high school, a combination newspaper and magazine, The Sage. Always eager to take part, Greensboro High School participated in the first state triangular debate in 1912. High Life, the school newspaper, had Paul Causey as the first editor and Mr. Edgar Woods and Miss Inabelle Coleman as advisers. It was first published September 25, 1920. A year later Miss Jane Summerell, a Latin teacher, brought forth the idea that school government placed in the hands of the students would be successful. Lengthy discussions among the faculty and a student campaign proved the idea acceptable. So in 1922, with Miss Summerell as adviser, the first council was elected, and Robert Irving became president. That same year, fixed programs were established for a boys' and girls' athletic association. In the fall of 1923, the Civitan Club, with Mr. Guy Phillips as president, first sponsored our system of awarding stars for achieving honor roll. Students who were outstanding in qualities of scholarship, leadership, service and character were first honored in 1923, through membership in Torchlight, the new chapter of the National Honor Society. Miss Nita Gressit served as the first adviser. Since High Life was proving so successful, the publishing of a magazine, Home-Spun, was begun in 1925, with Carlton Wilder as the first editor, and under the supervision of Miss Laura Tillett, head of the English department at that time. In 1929 a special day, known as Home-Coming Day, was set aside for all the alumni who so enjoyed returning to Greensboro High School. The next year, representatives from several colleges were invited to attend the first College Day. With 1931 came the first Social Standards Day and the discontinuance of the yearbook, The Reflector. Because of the depression, two years later High Life was temporarily discontinued; and the old original Home-Spun, after having won national recognition, succumbed the next fall. High Life was revived in the spring of 1937, while Home-Spun was republished, though modified, for this, its final year. With the spring of 1939 came the crowning of Jean Stafford, our first May Queen. The dramatics association, directed by Miss Lottie Wall, sponsored that and the following ceremony, which was the last before being discontinued during the war years. When our constitution was amended in 1941, we felt that our school was complete except for an organized recreational program. Three rooms were, therefore, set aside specifically for our entertainment; also parties and dances, co-sponsored by the P. T. A. and student council, were scheduled at regular intervals. After World War II, the council revived our May Day. At last, in 1927, the Greensboro Youth Center was established. This gathering place had its inception in the recreation program which had begun at school. At first it was under the direction of Mr. Weddie Huffman. Since it is sponsored by the City, the Center is available to all of Greensboro's youth. The last class of Greensboro High School's first half century heard for the first time our Alma Mater, written by Mr. Herbert Hazelman, the band director, and it saw the installation of a driver's course. Also, the class of 1950 had efficient Fred Upchurch as editor and patient Mrs. Estelle LeGwin as adviser when they revived our yearbook and changed its name to Whirligig.

Thus ended fifty years of obstacles and work, hope, boundless progress, and SUCCESS. Now, this first class of the second half century steps out into the world to take their places among the men and women of America, giving themselves wholeheartedly to the service of their God, their country, and the high ideals of their own Greensboro Senior High School.

To these we pay tribute

Mr. Routh is a good friend. Here he is shown in one of his characteristic positions — giving over-the-counter advice to one of the many students who come to him for advice.

Ours is a versatile principal—he can cook too.

Our principal, Mr. A. P. Routh, cannot be surpassed in his business abilities either.

The Faculty Members who have served as many as twenty years are, first row, left to right: Miss Estelle Mitchell, Mrs. Nellie D. Blackburn, Mr. J. Stanley Johnson, and Mrs. Blanche H. Smith. Second Row: Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, Mr. A. P. Routh, and Miss Ida Belle Moore.

It is only fitting that in a book which traces the history of our school's first half-century we give special recognition to those faculty members who have given long service to our school. Mrs. Nellie D. Blackburn, present adviser of the senior class, has seen more of these developments than any other member of the faculty, this being her twenty-ninth year at G. H. S. There are many who have served for more than a decade, others, for over two. To these we pay tribute.

Norman Schlosser
Indnstrious President of the Senior Class

"Politeness costs nothing and gains everything," was one of the many slogans displayed over the school during the senior class Courtesy Campaign. This campaign proved useful to the students throughout the year. In a class meeting it was decided that the seniors would make a three-hundred dollar contribution to the Whirligig. This money was raised by sponsoring a movie and by contributions from individual clubs. This year the Christmas Pageant, for which the senior class was entirely responsible, greatly impressed a quiet and reverent student body. The Class Day Program was the crowning achievement of their year.

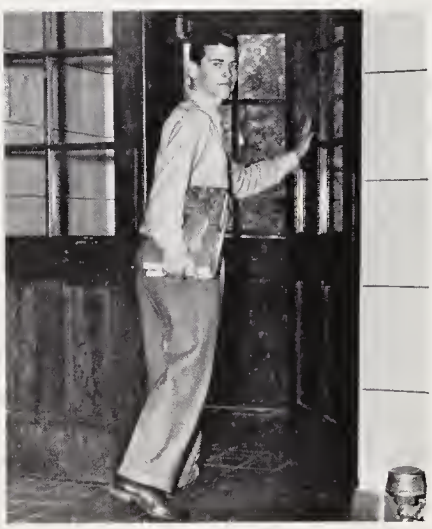
Class of 1952

Bobby Clark
President of the Junior Class



The Class of 1952 has spent a busy year. To help the bewildered sophomores, the Juniors sponsored a Big Brother and Sister Campaign. In November class members gave the annual Thanksgiving Program to the student body. Doing their part in raising money for the Whirligig they sold Christmas cards, sponsored a Bridge Benefit, and headed a Boys' Beauty Contest. Proceeds from these made up their two-hundred dollar contribution. In service to the school they were responsible for the worthwhile Clean-Up Campaign throughout the year and for the marshals at graduation exercises.

Bill Greene
President of the Sophomore Class

"Know Your School," was the byword of our sophomores this year. Certain days throughout the year were set aside to carry out this project. These were "Know Your Homeroom Day," "Know Your Administrative Officers Day," and "Know Your Teachers Day." The money for the sophomore contribution to the yearbook was raised by selling tickets to the play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" and by selling home-made candy at this performance and at the minstrel, "Ragtime Jubilee." A scrapbook is being compiled which will contain all the activities of the class until it graduates in 1953.

Organizations

Organizations, enjoyed by all,

Whether they be large or small,

Illustrate in every land,

"Divided we fall; united we stand."

Jerry Bryan, President, and Betty Jo Benfield, Vice-President, work as a team to head our top organization.

Our offspring of democratic government has been responsible for many beneficial projects this year. Early in September the Orientation Program for sophomores and their election of officers were held. We have the Council to thank for Social Standards Day, the school spirit at football games from the student cheerio section, the help from weekly devotions, the sponsorship of our two lovely contestants to the Piedmont Bowl Beauty Queen Contest, the distribution of school constitutions to the homerooms, the election of officers in the spring, and the beautiful May Day program. This hard-working organization also sponsors a square dance at mid-semester, and it co-sponsors with the P. T. A. our annual Christmas Dance and the climax of every year, the Commencement Prom.

Bill Sartin, Assistant Business Manager — "Rubber cement, mounting board, razor blades, drawing ink, pictures at Martin's, and get this package off to the engraver. Anything else this trip?"

Betsy Wright, Associate Editor — "I know what I'll do to make it fit — crop 'im off!"

Whirligig

Mrs. LeGwin, Adviser — "Sara, your extravagant lay-outs must not exceed Bill's budget!"

You'll want to know the inside story of how we got this masterpiece together. It represents 389 hours of after school work. It got so that every time Mr. Routh answered his phone after eleven P. M., he automatically said, "Thank you for calling about the lights. The Whirligig staff is working."

On December 30 we left the school at three o'clock in the morning. We had just completed our last order for the engraver. We looked like some mystic order feeling our way down the dark auditorium wall. As coincidence would have it, all of us had come to school the previous morning decked out in red shirts. Our school can get mighty cold when it's out for Christmas holidays.

Sara Ann Taylor, Editor — "I didn't dream these division pages could be so complicated. Oh-h-h-h, Mr. Brightman—"

Billy Crowder, Business Manager — "Let's see — that makes $999.99 to go."

Between Don Vaughn's mutters of, "I'm a genius, Mrs. LeGwin," and her admonishings of "Don, get to work, and quit making love to all these girls," Don drew while Jo Ann Moore did all the lettering and frames.

Late one afternoon during the holidays Mrs. LeGwin left Sara and Betsy working while she dashed home to prepare food for her starving family. That day of all days a big freeze swooped down on Greensboro. Sara and Betsy were so engrossed in their work that time meant nothing to them. All cars were called off the streets, and it was almost impossible to get down Westover hill. The telephone was too far away for those "eager beavers" to hear its frantic ringing. Ask them how they were rescued.

Over and over Mrs. LeGwin admonished the editors, "You girls cannot get sick before February 1. Also, stop socializing!"

Top: Janet Greene and Barbara Cashwell, Engraving Co-Editors smile as Janet says, "Here's that missing picture!" Bottom: "High salesman" Kacky Holt and Anne White did a remarkable job in soliciting advertising.

Toward the last we worked up an assembly line of which industry would be proud. Sara "laid out" the pages, Betsy figured proportions for the pictures, and Mrs. LeGwin mounted them, while Bill Sartin cleaned up and packed them for mailing. Georgia, Jo Ann and Betty stood by to assist in any way needed, and Carl and Norman, ex-officio staff members, gave extra protection in the wee small hours.

Ours was a large staff, but each member did his part to make this book what it is. At times we were faced with threats of a reform school for our editor, a nervous breakdown for our associate editor, and a divorce for our advisor, but today we are all happy, in good health, and proud of this, our 1951 edition.

The staff members prepare High Life for the press on Wednesdays.

Hats off to our school newspaper, High Life. In the past year the excellent efforts of the staff members and the students of the first year class have been well rewarded. The paper received first place ratings by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the National Scholastic Press Association, and honorable mention by Quill and Scroll. The Journalism students solicit, plan, write, and proof-read the copy, make up the dummy sheets and handle every phase of the publication. Although the staff came through with

Mr. Herbert Hazelman, director of Senior's well-dressed band, plans a new formation for half time with his assistant, Mr. David Arner.

The Senior High School 1950-1951 Band, under Mr. Herbert Hazelman, director; and Mr. Dave Arner, assistant director; led a double life. It performed as a concert band in its fall concert on November 17, its mid-winter concert on February 2, and the Commencement concert on May 25. It also presented successful concerts to the student body at its fall and spring assembly programs and its chapel program at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina in March. On the other hand many interesting themes were executed on the football field between halves by the other portion of the band, the marching band. With the field lights out, the band changed from school houses to churches or from mountains to maps, flashing their patterns with various colored lights. Each home football game had a different band show. The band also joined with the Asheville and High Point bands when our football team went to these towns to play. The marching band assisted with the Armed Forces Day Parade on November 10, and they had the honor of playing between halves for the Duke-Wake Forest football game in Durham on November 11. Each year the band participates in the State Music Contest, entering the divisions of concert bands, marching bands and small ensembles, as well as solo instruments.

At 3:30 the instrument room becomes a scramble as the band members hasten to lock up.

Mr. Harriman, director of the orchestra, studies one of the scores for the State Music Contest.

From the popular Christmas song, Sleigh Ride, to Bach's Great G Minor Fugue, our seventy-piece orchestra presented enjoyable programs to various groups throughout the year. For the first time the orchestra elected officers, which were as follows: Sam Sox, President; and Terryodiene Gaulden, Vice-President. Enjoying the best-balanced instrumentation it had ever had, the group received many honors. Besides a superior rating in the State Contest, they were well-represented at the All-State Orchestra in Charlotte and the M.E.N.C. held in St. Louis in 1950. The 1951 All-State Orchestra was held in Salisbury, but the highlight of this year's activities was the trip to Richmond to play in the Southern District Conference of the M.E.N.C. This Conference was followed by the All-Southern Orchestra, also held in Richmond. Section leaders of the orchestra are: Terryodiene Gaulden, concert mistress; Sam Sox, principal second violinist; Anne Kearney, viola; Kacky Holt, cello; Joe Hall, bass; and Joan Osborne, accompanist. These are always kept busy playing for assemblies and school activities. Also, the ensembles of the orchestra play for many different organizations. Both the ensembles and soloists entered in the State Contest held in Greensboro in April.

"Without a song, the day would never end." That is why this mixed chorus, directed by Miss Eula Tuttle, has spent a very busy year. They participated in the State Music Contest and the State Music Festival, furnished entertainment for numerous civic clubs in Greensboro, took several trips to give programs in neighboring cities, and performed for many assembly programs, including our impressive Christmas Pageant. "Ragtime Jubilee," a minstrel in which all members of the choir took part, highlighted the year. The stage production was a great success and drew large audiences at both performances.

The humorous acts of "Ragtime Jubilee" were climaxed by an impressive Grand Finale in which the entire cast rendered "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor" with Betty Jo Benfield portraying the Statue of Liberty.

Three other choral organizations, the newly-organized Boys' Chorus, the Advanced Girls' Glee Club, and the Beginning Girls' Glee Club, require our recognition for their outstanding work. The Boys' Chorus participated in assembly programs and entertained for Greensboro civic clubs. The two girls' organizations displayed their talent at several football games during half-time, and presented their annual program to the students. All three organizations participate in the State Music Contest and State Music Festival.

Picked for their outstanding scholarship, leadership, service and character, the members of Torchlight, National Honor Society, can well be proud of belonging to this organization. The seniors who were chosen for membership were "tapped" in an impressive ceremony in the fall, and additional seniors and second-semester juniors were "tapped" again in the spring. This has been a busy year for Torchlight members. In November they acted as hosts and hostesses for College Day representatives, and the Christmas party, given in honor of the new members, was enjoyed by all. Students always look forward to the Torchlight Talent Show, given this year in March. Service projects included taking gifts to polio patients at Easter and visits to the County Home. A scrapbook was also made and taken to be judged at the National Honor Society Convention, held in March in Salisbury. Torchlight inspires and creates enthusiasm to bring out the fine qualities for which its members are chosen.

"Books are our business," say Miss Herring and Miss Walker, our two capable librarians and advisers of the Library Club at G.H.S. This club is composed of twenty-five student assistants who spend at least one hour a day rendering valuable service in the library. One student, usually a boy, is employed on the Diversified Occupations Program to work at least twenty hours a week in the library. Members of the club meet every Wednesday morning from eight-thirty until nine o'clock with the librarians. All of them are members of the local Library Club and the North Carolina High School Library Association which holds one district and one state meeting each year.

"Where there's a wheel, there's a way," say the 525 Senior High students who rode our school busses daily. There are twelve busses in the fleet at G.H.S., each with a well-trained, capable bus driver who possesses an outstanding safety record. Counting the afternoon return trips, approximately ten thousand students rode our school busses during the 1949-1950 school year with no injuries to the riders while on the busses. This record will compare favorably with that of any commercial transit line. To become a bus driver, and thus a member of the Wheel Club, a boy must pass a test that takes all day to complete.

The C.D.L. Club, formed early in the spring of 1950, was first called the L. P. Club. During their first year they were most successful as both a service and a social club. Canasta parties, hayrides, and a shower for Jody Wilkinson, their former president who moved to California, constituted their social functions. Among their service projects were the making of place cards for the patients at the Guilford County Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Thanksgiving, and helping a needy family at Christmas and Easter. The twenty members take turns at playing hostess at the meetings held at their homes every other Thursday night.

The D.D.T.'s have once again had a very enjoyable year of social life. They gave their annual Christmas Dance for 450 delighted teen-agers at Sedgefield on December 23. Through the year the twenty members had many happy times on their annual beach trip, at parties, at a hayride that is becoming a yearly event, and at the club meetings held each Wednesday afternoon at the club members' houses.

Just a few days left to finish those argyles for "the one," so club time must double for agenda and knitting.

The G.W.I. Club was among the first social clubs to be organized at the high school. It was formed in 1947 by a group of girls, most of whom came to Senior from Curry. During the four years since its beginning, its members have enjoyed a varied program of activities, which included welfare work, hayrides and parties. Each year, however, is climaxed by their annual spring dance, when some four hundred students turn out in their best organdy formals and white dinner jackets for a very enjoyable evening.

Club members forget their diets with Charlotte's tempting refreshments.

Now, affairs which take place yearly are the floating supper at Christmas-time and the St. Patrick's Day Dance in early spring. The Les Soeurs have also worked in connection with the welfare department in aiding needy families. With the help of Miss Margie Gabriel, their adviser, the club members feel that it has been a very successful and useful year.

At their weekly meetings, the Les Soeurs mix business with pleasure.

The L.S.P.'s, or Little Saints, have engaged in many worthwhile projects this year. They helped poverty-stricken families at Christmas, Thanksgiving and Easter, made cartoon scrapbooks and cookies for veterans in hospitals, contributed twenty dollars to the Whirligig, and took part in Red Cross Service. But L.S.P. life is certainly not all work and no play. On the social side they wholeheartedly enjoyed their hayride, progressive dinner, 'possum hunt, making their annual beach trip, and most of all, entertaining five-hundred teenagers at their traditional New Year's Dance.

The Venettes were formed in September of 1949 by a group of girls who wished to combine their talents in doing for others and having fun. It has become a custom to have a social gathering at Christmas. In 1949 it was a square dance, and in 1950, a progressive dinner. Other club activities throughout the year include a beach house party, a tea honoring the new members, hayrides, and seasonal parties.

The club has been very active this year, beginning with a dance at the King Cotton Ballroom in November. During Christmas vacation club members and their dates enjoyed a cabin-party given by Sally Talbert. The club has also chosen a needy family to help during the school year. The W.S.T.'s are proud of what they have accomplished and hope to achieve more in the coming year.

"Ship ahoy," say the Mariners each summer as they at last reach the highspot of their year—the cruise down the Chesapeake Bay. For the past two summers they have made this week-long trip on a sweet-sailing schooner, the Anna and Helen. During the year the Mariners prepare thoroughly for these cruises by studying parts of boats, changes in weather, types of navigation, knot tying and all nautical terms. This summer they hope to make their cruise along the Atlantic Coastline to New York.

Key Club

The "key" to helping others has certainly been found and used by this service club, which is sponsored by Kiwanis International. The valuable second edition of student directories, concessions at football games, an amplifying system for the cheerleaders, the Christmas tree in the front hall, a fifty-dollar contribution to the yearbook, and an assembly program were projects of the hard-working Key-clubbers. Highspots of the year were the Wednesday supper meetings at the Y.M.C.A., the District Convention for all members in Charleston, South Carolina, the International Convention for officers in Florida, and many unforgettable parties and hayrides.

Each bag of peanuts sold helped pay the fifty-dollar contribution to the Whirligig.

Starting from inside the "G" formation, members of the Monogram Club are: Foster Mann, Clint LeGette, John Smith, Bill Parish, Don Tomlin, John Bradley, John Irvin, Jere Woltz, Franklin Meade, Gene Douglas, Jere LeGwin, R. H. Jessup, Ralph Barnes, Elwood King, Abbie Keyes, Jim Cox, Jimmy Moser, Charles Kennedy, Ken Callender, Mickey Chamblee, Harold Ross, Royce Garrett, Tiny Burtner, Sonny Hale, Donnie Lewis, Bill Beck, Bob Murray, Arnold Leary, and Charles Casey.

The members of this club are healthy athletes who have earned a letter in some sport at Senior High. Under a new constitution their aim is to promote better sportsmanship and school spirit. In October they sponsored a Pin-Up Queen contest and split the proceeds between a fifty-dollar contribution to the Whirligig and a party at the Plantation. Later in the year they sponsored a student-faculty basketball game to finish paying for the valuable scoreboard clock in the boys' gym. Mr. Harpo Withers is adviser.

This proves the theory that one locker can serve for ten students, but what complications at the end of the semester!

The V.B.A. Club was organized in the summer of 1950. It is composed of a group of boys who like to "pal around" together. Club meetings are held each week at the homes of the different members. The officers are: Bill Luper, President; Frank Matthews, Vice-President; and John Lee, Secretary-Treasurer.

Bill Luper converses with the members of the Social Committee as they make plans for a forthcoming hayride.

Ping-pong addicts and checker lovers engage in a quick game before the weekly meeting.

The Hi-Y Club officers make plans for future meetings. They are, left to right: Jim Fullton, Secretary-Treasurer, Ken Callender, Vice-President, and Garland Coble, President.

The Hi-Y Clubs were presented to the high school students for the first time in an assembly program last fall. Their past year has been busy with regular Hi-Y activities. Delegates attended the Inter-State Conference in Charlotte, North Carolina and the Blue Ridge Officers' Training Camp. Plans have been made to attend the Y.M.C.A. Centennial in Cleveland, Ohio in June. Mr. Monroe Monday is Y.M.C.A. adviser, and Mr. Lacy Anderson is faculty adviser. Mr. Harold J. McNairy and Mr. Robert Burley, former advisers also did much to make the Hi-Y Club into the useful organization that it is.

From the looks on the faces of these club members Ken Callender must have just cracked a good one!

Sophomore Hi-Y Club

The Sophomore Hi-Y Club, formed in September, 1950, is a separate organization from the Junior and Senior Hi-Y Club, but it participated in the same regular Hi-Y activities as its older brother. The club members formed a basketball team that played other clubs in the city. Meetings were held every Monday night at 7:30 at the Y.M.C.A.

Athletics are a work of fame

For all of us that choose this game.

Just take one look, and soon you'll find,

Football

Every day is wash-day for managers, Connie Mack Butler and Pete Hall, during football season.

After a close defeat by Wilmington in the opening game of the season, the Purple Whirlwinds bounced back in fine fashion to win four consecutive games. Of these, two were important Western Class AAA Conference victories.

Numerous injuries hampered the hopes of Coach Jamieson's charges after these early games, and the campaign ended with an even record of six victories and six defeats.

The highlights of this season were the sound trouncing of Charlotte's highly-touted Wildcats, followed by a victory over our bitter rivals, the Black Bison of High Point. A triumph over the Bison always marks the season a success despite the won-loss column.

Always reliable Tiny Burtner, despite former injuries, crossed the double stripes for the lone tally against Reidsville.

Enochs and Burtner produced the points as the invading Whirlwinds conquered High Point in a hard-fought contest.

Burlington fell in Greensboro's last victory. The Leary to Morris combination paced the Whirlies to victory.

Championship team? Why, sure! At least that's what the impressive early season victories seemed to indicate. In winning these games the Whirlies developed into one of the highest scoring fives Coach Jamieson has guided in a long while. Wild Bill Campbell, Bill Jarvis, and Jack Thomas, three returning starters from last year's squad, teamed with Connie Butler and Bob Kennerly to form the nucleus. This group received strong support from Grover Minor, Pete Hall, Larry Bateman, Johnny McDonald, and Sammy Hudson, who composed the very strong reserves.

The Golf Team, led by Don Smith and Kemp Clendenin, placed third in the State Tournament. Branch Crawford's and David Bradley's play helped make the season a success after the untimely shoulder injury of Frank Little.

Conference Finals

The Whirlies marked up a very successful 1950 baseball season. Coach Johnson's boys proved to have power plus in winning the Northern Division of the Western Class AA Conference.

Providing the bulk of the hurling for the Whirlies were Jack Thomas and Lindy Brown both of whom later made All State. Tiny Burtner, who successfully shifted to the catcher's slot, along with Connie Mack Butler, lead the batting percentages. Howard Stanley consistently turned in a good job at the hot corner, while the nimble-fingered and sure-footed combination of Arnold Steele and Pete Hall, shortstop and second-baseman, respectively, clicked on numerous double-plays throughout the season. Much praise is also due the promising reserves.

however, their worries were in vain. The sun finally decided to come out, and May 3 was perfect for the traditional May Day exercises. The pretty queen was crowned, attended by the seventeen ladies of the court and entertained by dancers and singers who portrayed the theme, "A World Festival." Members of the boys' and girls' physical education classes performed tumbling acts and dances which represented various countries, while the music was supplied by Miss Tuttle, the Glee Clubs, and members of the band.

Youth Center

Our "center" of attraction has carried out its basic aim of providing a clean and wholesome place for the teen-agers of Greensboro. This year the Youth Center played host to eight different high schools at open houses after football and basketball games. Dances, civic benefits, club meetings, radio and television programs given by "Loft" members, golf instruction and other social gatherings take place there during the six days and nights a week that is open. The many wonderful opportunities afforded by the Youth Center serve every type of group in the city.

The Social Standards Day Committee thank Reverend Goodson for his inspiring keynote address.

Social Standards Day

"I now declare the nineteenth Social Standards Conference in session." These words opened a day that has always been eagerly anticipated by the students at G.H.S. Reverend Kenneth Goodson as speaker, highlighted the day for the students. His keynote address, the music furnished by the orchestra and group singing, and the group meetings carried out the theme, "Our Wide, Wide World."

The Cheerio section at our first football game of the season on a warm Friday night.

Change of classes requires that we conform to the old traffic rule of "keep to the right."

"Just be patient, and I'll try to give you the classes you want," says Miss Carter of the English Department, on registration day.

"To the left to 36, twice around to the right at 0, and once again right to 30, then to the left until it clicks—" Try ten more times before calling "Jabbo."

What, no puddles? It must be a pretty day!

We eonldn't do without our maids and janitors. They are, left to right: Kate Sanders, Henry Fitzgerald, Lula Belle Marrison, John Bass, and Minie Nelson. Absent: Eddie Reed and Richard Greene.

Mr. Routh presides at a bi-monthly faculty meeting, at which time the Commercial Department furnishes eoffee and eake.

Christmas

The Youth Center was decorated in keeping with the theme, "Winter Wonderland."

Finis . . .

At last, in the wee small hours of a cold February morning, this second Whirligig is "put to bed." We can look back over these last months of toil with a feeling of pride, for we know that ours has been a worthwhile objective. The joy of such a large task lies in the fact that we can forget our many problems and hard work, but we shall always remember the fun we have had through our many pleasant experiences and companionships.

As we recall the various phases of our undertaking, we are reminded of all those who were indispensable in producing this 1951 Whirligig.

Foremost, we sincerely thank Mrs. Estelle McGwin, our unselfish faculty adviser, who so willingly gave of her time, interest, and efforts. Then there is Mr. Routh, who was never too busy to offer his sound advice. We appreciate the cooperation shown us by him and members of the faculty.

Every member of the staff did his own particular job well, but in every endeavor there must be those who hold the most responsible positions, and to these especially we want to express our gratitude.

There is Betsy Wright who was really as much a Co-editor as Associate, and Bill Sartin, Assistant Business Manager and our "jack-of-all-trades." Without their unceasing persistence our book could never exist.

Georgia Smith, who efficiently lined up all photography; Betty Jones, who cheerfully answered the many calls made of her; Janet Greene and Barbara Cashwell, who patiently mounted portrait panels; Connie Curry and Barbara Whittington, who worked long and laboriously producing and typing the many pages of copy; Don Vaughn and Jo Ann Moore, who are responsible for the artistic features of our book; Janet Davis, who spent many hours tracing and preparing the story of our school's development; all are due much credit.

Many of our appreciative thoughts are directed toward Mr. Gordon Brightman, who was helpful in our transactions with the Jahn and Ollier Engraving Company and to sweet Mr. Frank Fleming, our Lassiter Press printer "who stuck with us to the end," offering his excellent advice and services. Mr. Carol Martin and Mr. Malcolm Miller of Martin's Studio are responsible for the beautiful informal photography on which much of the success of our book depends.

The buzz of activity in the Whirligig room has slowed down even as the plans for the '52 yearbook get underway. We also want to thank Betty Jane Davis, who filled in in emergencies and Tommy Fesperman and Mose Kiser, who rendered much-needed assistance especially in the final hours of editorial work. It looks as if next year's Whirligig will be in capable hands. We wish for them the same all-round cooperation we have had.

To each of you and to the students of Greensboro High School we sincerely say, thank you.

WHAT MAKES A CHAMPION ATHLETE?

IS IT CONDITIONING. . . coaching . . . teamwork . . . physique . . . sportsmanship . . . competitive spirit . . . or just plain honest-to-goodness athletic skill?

We don't pretend to be athletic experts, because our job is to manufacture high quality textile products. But as sporting fans we think it would be safe to say that an athletic champion is the result of all these fine qualities.

We know that it has taken a combination of great leadership, manufacturing know-how, careful planning, employee loyalty, and skilled teamwork to make Burlington Mills a champion in the textile industry. The Company's many accomplishments and progressive growth during the past 27 years are well known. We are proud of this record and equally proud of our 32,000 employees who have worked together with real team spirit as members of the Burlington team.

It's a fact that Burlington's fine fabrics, hosiery and other textile products are truly "Woven Into the Life of America" — just as every Burlington plant is woven into the life of its own community.
